

DOUBLE GUARDS FOR WITNESSES AGAINST SALTIS

Prosecutors Fear Plots; Four Jurors Sworn.

BY JAMES DOHERTY.

Less than five men in a room at the county building, one purpose uppermost in their minds: hanging Joe Saltis. Four of them had passed all day in Judge Harry B. Miller's court, where a jury was being picked to try Saltis for murder. The jury was in sight, expectations being that the twelfth man will have been chosen by tomorrow noon.

And so the four men, Assistant Prosecutors James C. O'Brien and Lloyd D. Heath, and Chief of Detectives William Schoemaker and his deputy, John Stago, reported in the evening to Special State's Attorney Charles A. McDonald, who was the fifth man.

"We'll have the jury soon; now we must be sure we'll have our witnesses," was the gist of their conversation.

Prosecutors Are Confident.

With the witnesses now known and available the prosecutors believe they can convict Saltis and his followers, Frank Konec, of a gang murder, something heretofore found impossible.

O'Brien and Heath are former assistant state's attorneys, both with records of convictions in murder cases. McDonald was a judge for fourteen years. Schoemaker and Stago are veteran policemen. All five are experienced crime fighters.

They make no secret of it: they are worried and they are cautious. They say this case is of the utmost importance to the citizens of Cook county, that the conviction of Saltis will do more to destroy the power of gangsters than any other event.

Tell of Saltis' Story.

Schoemaker and Stago comment on the power wielded by Saltis, his domination of a hundred or more lawless characters, and how the pack lived on the proceeds of the beer sales they could control. They talk of how fifteen or more beer runners rivals of the Saltis-McCormack gang have been killed and of how it was nearly impossible ever to get witnesses to testify against the gangsters.

Now, the two chiefs say, they have witnesses who saw Saltis and his henchmen kill John "Mittie" Foley, who dabbled in beer and who opposed Saltis. The objective of the five is to have these witnesses give testimony in Foot-Fretful?

Many a man who appears to have jumpy nerves and an uneven temper is simply "foot-fretful" ... distracted and tortured by the ceaseless ache of pain-ridden feet. And what a needless handicap foot troubles are! Thousands of men have found that Ground Gripper Shoes give quick and permanent relief.

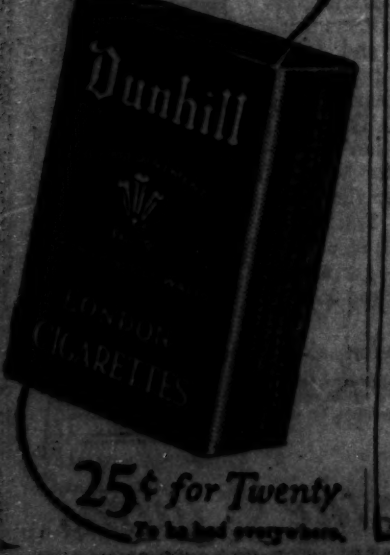

The three corrective features found only in these shoes first remove the causes of your foot troubles and then help nature restore your feet to normal health—The Straight Line Inner Edge, The Flexible Arch, The Patented Rotor Heel.

Why endure the handicap of tortured feet another day? Visit a Ground Gripper Store and have a pair of Ground Grippers fitted. You will rejoice at the quick relief.

Double Witnesses' Guard.

"We'll do the best we can without them," Special-Prosecutor McDonald says, "but we must not lose any more. We told Judge Miller yesterday we were ready, and we are."

"We are ready also to go the limit in protecting state witnesses. From now on there will be a double police guard on each of our witnesses."

Four jurors had been sworn in during the morning session of court. In the afternoon there were three more practically accepted by both sides and it was agreed that the twelve might be obtained, perhaps today, fairly certainly by tomorrow. Then on Monday the state will begin calling its witnesses.

Each juror examined yesterday was qualified for the death penalty or he was dismissed. Defense Attorneys W. W. O'Brien and Frank A. McDonald were seeking men who would not be prejudiced against Saltis because they have read he was known as the terror of the south side badlands.

MRS. E. MURRAY IS HELD ON BAD CHECK CHARGE

Former Wife of Judge
Shepherd of Elgin.

Columbus, O., Oct. 7.—[Special.]—Mrs. Elizabeth Murray, 36, founder of the International Woman's History foundation, educator, traveler, lecturer, and writer, and who formerly was married to Probate Judge Frank Shepherd of Elgin, Ill., was arrested here today for Marion, O., police, who will use her to explain a charge of passing worthless checks, totalling $75, on the Hotel Harding there.

Mrs. Murray, who was apprehended when she attempted to cash a small check at a local hotel, also is wanted in Chicago, Cleveland, and Tampa, Fla., police, it is said. She is alleged to have passed bogus checks amounting to $1,500 in these cities.

Came to See Dr. Harding.

Her purpose in visiting Columbus, Ohio, was to sell a life membership in the history foundation for $1,000 to Dr. George T. Harding, father of the late President. Dr. Harding, she said, had promised her, in addition, $3,000 for the foundation.

The foundation, she declared, is imaginary and the money she collects for it is used by herself to pay her expenses while traveling. She said she was in Columbus on a mission for the foundation party and that she had made engagements to speak here for G. O. P. candidates. Mrs. Murray refused to talk for publication, saying the story would embarrass Ohio Republican leaders and would injure members of Columbus' best families.

She is the daughter of former United States Senator Benjamin Franklin.

Mrs. Murray arrived in Columbus in an expensive automobile, driven by a well-known chauffeur, and carried ten traveling bags. The chauffeur, Howard Turbitt of Detroit, said Mrs. Murray had hired him about ten days ago. The last deposit Mrs. Murray made in any bank in the United States, so no detectives could determine, was last February, shortly after she announced elaborate plans to erect in West Palm Beach, Fla., a temple of art and to establish a colony of famous women.

NORTHWESTERN ALUMNA.
Elizabeth Murray, according to "Who's Who in America," attended Northwestern university when, in 1908, she won the prize in oratory in the contest of the Northern Oratorical league.

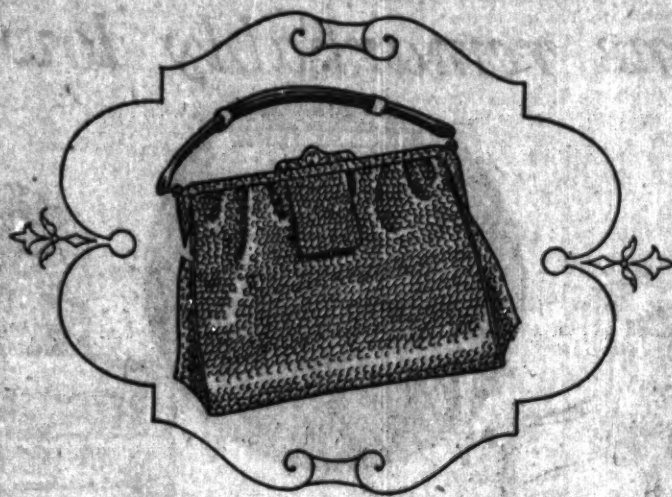

In 1913 she married Judge Frank

Shepherd of Elgin. He was granted a divorce from her about five years ago. Their daughter, Caroline, lives with Judge Shepherd.

Mrs. Murray's home address was given as the Mayflower hotel in Washington and at the Writers' and Artists' colony, Palm Beach, Fla.

SMITH PLEADS FOR CONFIDENCE OF THE PEOPLE

Means More than Senate Seat, He Tells Egypt.

BY FRANK BUTZOW.

East St. Louis, Ill., Oct. 7.—[Special.]—Leaving behind him the message that the confidence of the people of Illinois means more to him than a seat in the United States senate, Frank Z. Smith, Republican nominee for United States senator, ended his campaign of Egypt here tonight.

Republican leaders claim that the district is safely tucked away for the Republican state ticket and congressional candidates. They are even claiming the Twenty-third congressional district, normally Democratic, where State Senator Rex Telford is the G. O. P. nominee against Congressman Arnold. The G. O. P. caravan is headed back toward central Illinois.

Claim Support for Smith.
Because he heads the state ticket and because the utility contributions to the primary campaign fund have been made an outstanding issue in the campaign, Smith's candidacy has eclipsed that of his colleagues in the swing through the south. Republican organizations south of the Vandals seem to be standing solidly behind Smith.

The two women on the state ticket for university trustees, Helen M. Grigsby and Laura B. Evans, are making an earnest appeal to the women voters to support Smith. Congressman-at-Large Yates and Rathbone, Supreme Court Clerk Charles W. Vail, Superintendent of Public Instruction Francis Q. Blair, Garrett D. Kinney, nominee for treasurer, and Republican state officials who are not candidates are laying stress on Republican prosperity and making it the outstanding issue of the campaign.

Pleaded for G. O. P. Senator.
Attorney General Carlstrom and Senator Deneen joined the caravan against tonight. Smith's election, they say, is essential to the party so that the national administration may have the support of a Republican senator from Illinois. Meetings were held tonight at East St. Louis, Alton and Granite City. Tomorrow the caravan visits Carlinville, Jacksonville, Springfield.

"I want to be United States senator from Illinois, but more than that I want the confidence of the people."

of my state. Whatever happened in my primary campaign is public property. The facts are before the people. I want to go to the senate, but don't send me there if you don't believe in me."

Smith received a great ovation when he made this statement today at Central, where the caravan stopped for a meeting on its way to East St. Louis.

Smith had been discussing the senate committee revelations of his primary campaign funds, $125,000 of which was received from Samuel In-ull, utility magnate, Smith, during the campaign, was chairman of the Illinois conservative commission.

Smith said the quarrel of Hugh S. Magill, independent candidate, with the anti-saloon league was something for them to settle between themselves. It has been charged the league tried to get Magill to withdraw.

MAGILL ACCUSES 'CAPITOL CROWD' OF SMITH PLOT

Charges Scheme to Seat
Governor in Senate.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Setting out the old history ruler, S. Magill, ex-schoolmaster, and independent Republican candidate for governor, proceeded yesterday to thrash anti-Saloon leaders, Frank L. Smith, his Republican opponent, Lieut. Gov. Sterling and the whole state administration.

Magill charged that Smith, Sterling, and George B. Safford, the superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, were all sticking together like "pins in a board" in "one of the most brazen attempts against civic decency Illinois has ever witnessed."

"The whole state house crowd, in all its ramifications, is involved," said Magill. "Never was there such an attempt to control the dry church through the supergovernment system of the Anti-Saloon league."

"Has, Hall, the Grand Old Man of the State," Magill charged, "and other members of the notorious state administration are making Smith's election."

ian, William Taber, and Joseph T. Kehoe, union officials.

"The organized electric railway workers of Chicago," says the protest, "experienced a drastic wage reduction in 1923, through the attitude of Frank L. Smith as chairman of the Illinois commerce commission through allowing the introduction of evidence showing the companies were extravagant in paying too high a rate of wages and allowing too favorable working conditions to their employees."

Strike Is Recalled.

"The evidence was presented to the Federal court in support of the commission's order for a reduction of car fare."

"Owing to this, there was a slight decrease in car fare and after a 5 day strike that paralyzed Chicago, our members were forced to accept a drastic reduction in wages."

"It is a well established fact that the utility companies are more prosperous under the decisions of the commerce commission than they ever were before, and that their employees were less prosperous."

The protest closes with a mention of the public utility contributions to Mr. Smith's campaign fund.

The latest Republican to come out for George E. Brennan for senator is Charles H. Belrose, of Wadron, Ill., a civil war veteran, who has been a member of his county central committee for fifty years.

"I voted for Abraham Lincoln and every Republican candidate for President from that time to the present," he writes to Mr. Brennan. "But the time has come when so much fanatical intolerance is abroad that I feel I must depart from my political companions."

PARENTS HUNT MISSING SON.

Wesley Owsendorf, 32 years old, 4366 Ogden avenue, missing from his home since last Friday, is being sought by the police. His parents fear he is suffering from a nervous breakdown. He is 6 feet tall and weighs about 160 pounds. He was last seen in a drug store at 55th street and Ogden avenue.

"The whole state house crowd, in all its ramifications, is involved," said Magill. "Never was there such an attempt to control the dry church through the supergovernment system of the Anti-Saloon league."

"Has, Hall, the Grand Old Man of the State," Magill charged, "and other members of the notorious state administration are making Smith's election."

Magill charged that Smith, Sterling, and George B. Safford, the superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, were all sticking together like "pins in a board" in "one of the most brazen attempts against civic decency Illinois has ever witnessed."

REPORT FOSBERG IS INDICTED ON FRAUD CHARGES

Dr. George Fosberg, south side physician, who was a state witness in the Billy McClintock murder trial, which resulted in acquittal of William Darling Shapard, was reported indicted by the grand jury on charges of conspiracy yesterday. Fosberg is alleged to be the head of a group accused of having defrauded banks out of considerable sums by obtaining loans on raised or forged stock certificates.

In the first of three true bills the physician is named jointly with Richard Roberts and his wife, Agnes, and they are charged with obtaining $4,500 from the Union State bank of South Chicago. In the second bill the physician and Mrs. Roberts are charged with defrauding the South Chicago Savings bank of $1,000, and in the third Fosberg and Clarence Hansen are charged with obtaining $3,500 from the Harbor State bank.

JUDGE URGES CLASSES FOR BRIDES HERE

Chicago girls need to attend university classes for prospective brides similar to those being conducted at Boston university, in the opinion of Judge Harry A. Lewis, who hears about one-half the divorce cases in the city. Judge Lewis declared yesterday he is astonished by the number of young brides who come into court seeking divorce.

"Many homes are broken up because of nagging wives who cannot appreciate their husband's desire to enjoy themselves while at home," he said. He expressed agreement with Mrs. Elizabeth MacDonald, authority on home making and head of the course of Boston university, that too much neatness has wrecked many a home.

CHURCH GROUP ALLEGES CANADA RUM LAW FAILS

Issue Statement After an Investigation.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 7.—(AP)—Denying the system of government control of liquor in Canada as a failure, the board of temperance, prohibition, and public morals of the Methodist Episcopal church, in a statement made today that even "the half-century prohibition" in the United States has produced far better results. The board's conclusions are that the government control in Canada has increased consumption of liquor; increased use of liquor by poor people and women; increased crime; corruption; and, as a result, an illicit trade as great as under any prohibition law; a liquor bill, and a great economic loss.

ALLEGES GAG BY G. O. P.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 7.—(AP)—While House influence and Republican party necessity are credited by Senator Edwards (Dem., N. J.) with having stifled the plans of Senator Smith (Rep., Idaho) to amend the constitution to place the country in opposition to the congressional candidates and prohibition referendum. A caustic statement by Senator Edwards, which Democratic leaders hope will send Senator Smith into a retreat, bringing prohibition to the fore as a campaign issue, concludes that "the Olympus of independent thought and action in the senate" has sacrificed his convictions to political expediency.

In support of the charge Senator Edwards notes an "about face" by Senator Smith on the subject of referendum, recalling that in Baltimore last year the latter denounced advocates of referendum as "nullificationists and destroyers of the constitution," and then in Minneapolis a few days ago admitted that a popular referendum might be the only solution of the prohibition problem.

"Why has the distinguished gentleman from Idaho executed this sudden about face?" asks Senator Edwards. "Has he heard from the White House, which have too much stress on prohibition, corruption, bribery, and do not wish to bring about an adverse majority of the seventeenth congress?"

RECOUNT ROW IS OVER AND TICKET STAYS AS IT WAS

County Judge H. K. Jarocki made final disposition of the Republican primary controversy yesterday and the ticket rolled down on what the public called Shakespeare to date or Shakespeare to date.

The final orders restored John Jarocki, one of the original nominees for county commissioner from the country towns and deposed George W. Miller, who forced ahead during the recount. The ticket now goes to the printer without a name change from the proclamation after the primaries.

On the Municipal Judge ticket, Judge Jarocki decided that the bench candidates should appear on the ballot in the order of their votes as shown by the recount. This does not change the personnel of the ticket, but it does alter the sequence, and Judge Samuel H. Trude gets the coveted position of the head of the Republican bench ticket.

Judge William H. Foster, who was originally at the top, goes to second place, and several others are shifted in position. The candidates in the four hottest positions are in the same order as before.

In political circles, it was estimated that the controversy has cost the taxpayers approximately $100,000. Under the primary election law the petitioner for a contest "shall give security for all costs." In the dispute just ended Republican politicians said yesterday that the contestants had not been required to give bonds, and the assumption is that the cost will fall on the public exchequer.

TONS OF FOOD GIVEN TO POOR BY COUNTY BOARD

Hundreds of tons of foodstuffs and other supplies are annually distributed to the poor by Cook county, according to figures made public yesterday by Anton J. Gernak, president of the county board.

Among the principal items given away last year were 153,973 pounds of beans, 176,498 pounds of rice, 134,975 pounds of rolled oats, 51,737 pounds of tea, 1,133,774 pounds of flour, 147,181 pounds of sugar, and 255,487 quarts of milk. The board also distributed 142,534 pounds of soap.

The report shows that aid was received by 487 blind persons and by 10,323 families during the year. Thirty-three physicians employed in the work made a total of 19,337 calls.

WORKMEN BEAT FOR INDEMNITY. Ralph Ross, 30 years old, 1000 West Monroe street, died at the West Side hospital yesterday afternoon of injuries suffered in an accident while working on a building.

HASTE OF JUDGE BRINGS PLAINTIFF ANOTHER TRIAL

Federal Judge Harry C. Baltzell's hurry to catch a train for Indianapolis was one of the factors which yesterday influenced the United States Circuit Court of Appeals to grant Indiana Espinal, convicted of bribery and wine selling, a new trial.

After testimony had been concluded in the trial last December Judge Baltzell is quoted as saying to the jury: "This is my last day in this court, and I want to get away at noon if I can, or a little before. In time to catch the last train for Indianapolis. If you will arrive at a verdict before that time I will appreciate it very much."

The higher court held that the judge also acted in allowing a witness to be called after the jury had once retired. Espinal was sentenced to a year in Leavenworth prison and fined $300. He is at liberty on bonds of $5,000.

TWO WITNESSES AGAIN IDENTIFY BOY AS KILLER

Two young boys took the witness chair in Judge Emanuel Miller's Criminal court yesterday and identified Henry Pietrucha, 16, as the murderer of Angelo Chinola, 47, a peddler, killed in November, 1925. He resisted an attempted robbery at 25th street and Commercial avenue. This is the second time the boys, Peter Vallekis, 15, 524 West 34th street, and Bernard Jomitis, 11, 440 West 33d place, have identified the youthful defendant as a murderer.

Pietrucha was convicted before Judge William V. Brothers some months ago, but the 14 year penalty imposed by the jury was set aside, because the boy witnesses declared that their identifications were not true. They later told the state's attorney's office that they had changed their original identification, because they had been frightened by other boys in the neighborhood.

WIFE SHOT WHILE MATE BERATES HER IN TAXICAB

He First Admits, Then Denies, He Fired.

Mrs. Elizabeth Higgins, 28 years old, 1118 Diversey avenue, was shot possibly fatally wounded late yesterday afternoon as she and her husband, William Higgins, quarreled in a taxicab at Harrison and Franklin streets.

At the crack of the revolver sound, the cab, the driver, A. J. Hartman, 3612 North Monticello avenue, was stopped, but he was ordered by Higgins to drive on and keep quiet. Higgins played and took the couple to a taxicab's office at Richmond street and Diversey avenue and later to the Washington Boulevard hospital.

Two hours later, when Higgins was removed from the home he occupied with his wife, Higgins had been carried to a room. He was carried by Higgins that he might be killed if he made any report of the shooting. Higgins fled and the driver went to the police with the story.

First Says He Shot Her.

Says Husband Held Gun.
"I had been called to the house on Diversey avenue," he said. "When I went there Higgins told me to go to the 4th O. station. I waited outside while he went in. He came back with a woman and ordered me to drive him home again. We had almost reached the bridge on Harrison street when I heard the shot."

"When I looked back I saw that the woman had been shot in the head. Higgins yelled for me not to stop and I didn't. He had the gun. They had been quarreling. I heard the man ask the woman if she was mad, where she had been. Wherever it was, he didn't like it."

SOCIETY WOMEN RAIDED IN LONDON "DONKEY DERBY"

(Chicago Tribune From Service.)
LONDON, Oct. 7.—Society women and girls in low cut evening gowns rode three donkeys around the room of the Frivolity club, in Leicester Square, at midnight in a "donkey Derby." It became known in the Bow street police court this afternoon when Frank Ellis and Jack Ellis, the proprietors, were heavily fined for selling liquor without a license. The club was raided.

Messrs. Ellis and Ellis explained that the donkey Derby was held for charity, the proceeds going to hospital. They asserted a well known English jockey took part in the race. Leicester Square is London's Montmartre district and after midnight drinking and gayeties are prolonged until morning in alleged clubs where membership cost about a quarter.

The police watched the curious spectacle of three donkeys being taken up four flights of stairs to the club, then entered and found they were able to get the best of champagne without being members. Huge stocks of liquors were found hidden behind the bar.

Cracks, fissures, bubbles, sprays of carbon or feathers. If prominent, they disturb the light refraction and interfere with the highest brilliancy.

SPEAKERS URGE NON-POLITICAL TAX REVISION

BY HARPER LEECH.

Red lanterns pictured on the program and some red blood in the speeches denouncing the proposed amendment to the revenue sections of the Illinois constitution to be voted on Nov. 2 achieved the usually impossible at a luncheon of the Illinois Manufacturers' association yesterday.

Taxation and politics were so dramatized to an audience of business men that they left the tables talking about what they had heard.

Would Curb Illinois Spending.

The urgent question in America today is not how to provide additional sources of revenue, but how to curb the ruinous extravagance of government, said Charles R. Pies. His company pays twice as much taxes in Illinois as in Pennsylvania on the same investment. Within four months there will be completed a study of Illinois taxation and that of competing states by the national industrial conference board, he said, and this will be laid before the legislature with the request for a scientific revenue law or an amendment.

"We are nearing the breaking point," Edward H. Litzinger of the Cook county board of review declared. "No matter how much merit the proposed tax amendment may have, if it has any, it is totally inadequate to solve the problems before us." He said that, to put it mildly, the present laws on taxation of personal property are incapable of enforcement.

Would Penalize Thrift. Because of the increased expenditures of the city of Chicago and other units of government the tax rate is so high now that to apply the law to a $100 savings account would be to confiscate the interest and take $1.50 of the principal every year.

Mr. Litzinger argued that a committee of business men and economists must study the rising tide of governmental spending and work out a solution for the legislature to adopt. The many tax spending governments and quasi governments in Cook county must be consolidated—at least into three or four—and one appropriation to cover the needs of all must be established.

Fears Excess of Power.

"I am glad that there are some constitutional amendments which have to be submitted to a vote of the people," Thomas F. Donovan, chairman of the State Democratic Central committee, said. He declared that the issue is not one of party. A state constitution is not a grant of power to a legislature but a limitation, and the essence of this proposed amendment is that it seeks to remove limitations from the legislature.

It is that body is given power to classify property for taxation. It was his contention that bloc legislation will become the rule—the state will be racked by strife and trading of classes and blocs.

Revised for Road Bonds. Mr. Donovan said he had campaigned the state for the $20,000,000 road bond issue. He told the people, as the signs along the roads tell them, that automobiles would pay the interest and retire the bonds.

Under sound accounting $20,000,000 of that issue is theoretically due today, with not a dollar in the state treasury or in any fund to meet that requirement. Collis C. H. Frye, counsel for the manufacturers' association, said the proposed amendment threatens the home rule of every community in Illinois.

It opens a door for the legislature to take from the people of any city or village the right to levy their own taxes, but boards at Springfield may be empowered to tell them what they shall pay for their local purposes.

Clarence Griggs, Ottawa attorney, said the farmers would favor the amendment. J. F. Mullane, director of the Farmer's union, said it the farmers understand the amendment they will back it. "Most of the farmers I talk to can't pay this year's taxes—God knows what they will do, if they are raised," he declared.

WIFE FINDS HUSBAND DEAD. Heart disease is believed to have been the cause of the death of Max Margulies, 57 years old, of 1000 Park Ridge boulevard, who was found dead in his bed yesterday by his wife.

TRUSTEES OPEN M'CORMICK ROAD OFFICIALLY OCT. 23

M'Cormick road, concrete highway extending along the north shore drainage canal channel, from West Railroad avenue, Evanston, to Devon avenue, will be opened officially Oct. 23, the trustees of the sanitary district decided yesterday. The date was set after chief engineer, Edward J. Kelly, reported that the unfinished sector of the road at Howard street over the Chicago and North Western tracks would be completed by Oct. 30.

The trustees will assemble for the opening and will preside over the ceremonies of setting in place the tablets at each extremity of the road.

M'Cormick road is a three and a half mile stretch, forty feet wide and completed at a cost of $1,000,000. It is expected to furnish an outlet to the north for the three quarter million population on the northwest side. It will also relieve Sheridan road of considerable traffic, the trustees believe.

TRANSFER RUM WORTH $12,000,000 THROUGH CITY

Prohibition agents under Administrator E. C. Yellowley and revenue agents from the staff of Collector Mabel G. Reinecke yesterday began the transfer of $12,000,000 worth of pre-war bonded liquor from the Chicago Terminal and Warehouse, 444 West Grand avenue, to the Bixby concentration depot, 1525 Newberry avenue.

Announcement of the proposed transfer was made Aug. 27, but opposition among some of the owners of whisky receipts at the terminal caused delay in the removal until yesterday, it was said.

Secrecy surrounds the manner in which the liquor is being carted and the time of day the caravans move. It was said, however, that the most valuable parcels will be moved by freight cars through the Chicago tunnel.

OHIO BRISTLES WITH ASPIRANTS FOR WHITE HOUSE

Candidates There Have the Bee.

ARTHUR BEARS HENNING.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Columbus, O., Oct. 7.—(Special.)—A bumper crop of presidential candidates is the political forecast for Ohio this year. Almost everybody of consequence who is running for public office in this state this fall is also running for President in 1928, and the one certainty at this stage of the proceedings is that the outcome of the various elections will be the production of two candidates for the White House—one for each party.

The race for the senatorship is between Senator Frank B. Willis, Republican, and former Senator Allen F. Williams, Democrat, both potential candidates for the nomination for President by their respective parties.

Willis or Longworth.
If Willis is reflected the Ohio Republican will be called upon to decide whether he or Representative Nicholas Longworth of Cincinnati, speaker of the house of representatives, shall be the state's favorite son in the 1928 Republican national convention. If Willis is elected, Longworth would be the logical choice, though he would be bitterly fought by the Anti-Saloon League. Of course, if President Coolidge should be a candidate with his popularity essentially unimpaired both Willis and Longworth would be found in the Coolidge band wagon.

The governorship contest is between Gov. Vio Donahey, Democrat candidate for a third consecutive term, and Mr. Cooper, Republican, who has ever since the death of Mr. Cooper, the only one of the quartet of candidates for these offices who can look you in the face without blushing an eyelash and who has been the remotest possibility of being a candidate for President. At any rate, his campaign biography has laid the foundation in the opening sentence of the Cooper biography: "On a high knoll amid the hills of Newton township, Licking county, Ohio, stands a weather-beaten farmhouse," you've guessed it.

May Hear Bee Buzz.
That's where Cooper was born. With a beginning it would be more than strange if Mr. Cooper, in the event of being elected governor, should hear upon entering the old state house the buzzing of that bee that in these same precincts hummed its presidential tune to Hayes and Garfield, McKinley and Harding.

If Pomerene should be elected senator and Donahey should be elected governor it would be the Democrats who would have to decide which of two farmers to name their favorite son in the Democratic national convention. The making of such a choice would be as distracting in the Democratic party as it would be for the Republicans if called upon to decide between Willis and Longworth. For just as Willis is a dry and Longworth is a wet, Pomerene is a wet, or at least a dry, and Donahey is a bone dry. Matters, of course, will be simplified for the Democrats if victory perches on the banner of only one of these two standard bearers. If Pomerene should be elected and Donahey defeated Pomerene would become at once an important potential candidate for the Democratic nomination for President and the Democratic delegation from his state would be his for the asking. Conversely, if Donahey should win and Pomerene lose the governor would become the favorite son of the Ohio Democrats.

So as matters now stand the Ohio Democrats don't know whether they are going to be whooping it up for a dry or a wet candidate for President in 1928 any more than the Republicans, torn betwixt Willis and Longworth, can tell whether they are headed on the prohibition issue two years hence.

Ohio Rated Dry.
Whether prohibition is to be a leading issue in Ohio before the votes are cast next month it is difficult to say. Both the Democratic and Republican leaders rate Ohio a dry state politically. Of course, there is plenty of liquor to be had, the politicians explain, but the voting is done predominantly by the drys. Both parties are soft peddling the beer and light wine question and all other phases of the proposition of modifying prohibition.

TAX CUT IS AGAIN TO BE SHIBBOLETH FOR DEMOCRATS

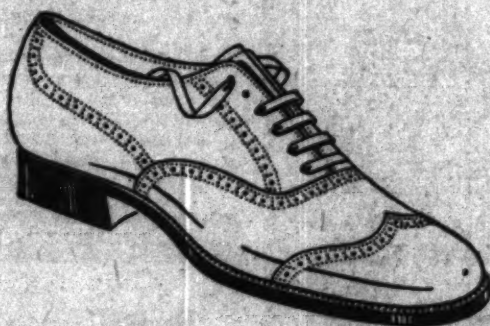

Washington, D. C., Oct. 7.—(Special.)—Insistence upon an immediate further tax reduction will be one of the chief features of the Democratic program in the coming session of congress, Senator Robinson (Dem., Ark.), minority leader, announced today.

"There is no occasion for waiting on tax reduction if there is to be a large surplus, as they say there will be," said Senator Robinson. "There is nothing to indicate any slump in the revenue. I regard the raising of unnecessary taxes and the maintenance of a big surplus as one of the worst forms of oppression."

That the Democrats will be able to accomplish anything besides agitation on the subject is doubted by the Republicans. Even Senator Borah (Idaho), who seldom follows the leadership of the administration, said today that he saw no possibility of tax reduction during the short session of congress. There would not be time, in his opinion, for the consideration of a revenue bill.

DAUGHERTY PUT RECORDS IN FIRE TO OUTWIT FOES

Political Hounds After Him, Attorney Says.

New York, Oct. 7.—[Special.]—The attorney general, buried the records, his government prosecutor said they needed, was offered to by Mr. D. Steiner, his counsel, at the conspiracy trial in federal court of Mr. Daugherty and Thomas W. Miller, formerly alien property custodian. Mr. Steiner completed his closing address to the jury in Mr. Daugherty's case. William Hand said the last day for Mr. Miller, United States attorney, Steiner will sum up for the government today.

The bank records, ledger sheets of the private accounts of Harry Daugherty, Mr. S. Daugherty, his brother, and the late Jess Smith, his closest friend, in the Midland National bank in Washington Court House, O., of which Mr. Daugherty is president.

Caused Break in Chain.

The government had said the missing records caused a break in the chain of circumstantial evidence, by which it sought to link Daugherty with the $200,000 in bonds which Richard J. German, German capitalist, paid the late John T. King in the $7,000,000 American Metal company alien property transfer in 1921.

"It was in some mad, lonesome moment that Harry Daugherty destroyed these records," Mr. Steiner told the jury. "They had been produced before the Todd grand jury in October. The prosecutor had said he didn't want to see them. They went back to Ohio. What happened?"

"Harry Daugherty took them to that little 'shack' of his and his brother's outside Washington Court House. Harry Daugherty—yesterday hounded—broken, old man—his life spent; his best friend, the President, dead; his close friend, Jess Smith, gone to suicide; his wife gone; his political career over. He went to the 'shack' and those whom the gods would destroy they first make mad."

"Hounds' Who Wanted Him.

"So this lonesome, old man, alone with those records, destroyed them. He thought of the hounds who wanted to know—know of the American Metal transfer? No, no, they were the banking dogs, the yelpers, who wanted to know how the funds were used in the 1919-1920 campaign of President Harding. He said to himself: 'They will never see them! They will never see them!' And he destroyed the sheets they wanted."

"Now, you are asked to draw the inference that because they were destroyed, he was the one who received these various checks from John T. King. Had Mr. Daugherty destroyed them, or Jess Smith, the inference would have been the same. By such an inference you are asked to believe that Harry Daugherty so cheaply sold a life of achievement and of attainment of high ambition."

Fits Blame on Smith.

"I have no more doubt than that I am standing here," he said, "that the bonds were given by King to Jess Smith."

Jess Smith committed suicide on May 20, 1923, in a Washington hotel suite he had shared with Mr. Daugherty. A few days before Smith had told Mr. Daugherty that he was "short" more than $40,000 in campaign funds he had collected for Harry Daugherty. He made partial restitution of $57,000, and this included $50,000 of the bonds Merton had given to King.

Mr. Steiner alleged that Mr. Daugherty was being made the victim of "powerful political interests," whom he had antagonized, and who, through his efforts, had been required to pay $1,500,000 more for the American Metal company alien property than they had expected.

BANKERS ADOPT PLAN TO RELIEVE COTTON GROWERS

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 7.—[Special.]—Plans to relieve the $400,000,000 slump of the cotton growers occupied the final day of the American Bankers' association today. The Cotton State Bankers' association, at a special meeting, endorsed an emergency plan which calls for 25 per cent reduction in cotton acreage next year, withdrawal of between 1,000,000 and 2,000,000 bales of this year's crop in an effort to increase the price, and a bankers' agreement to finance this storage of withdrawn cotton.

The southern bankers will meet in Dallas, Tex., again within ten days. Bankers of the other states were loath to undertake the drastic proposal of W. W. Woodson of Texas for withdrawal from the market of 5,000,000 bales.

Delegates of several states asserted that most of the cotton states except Texas already had reduced acreage and production by diversification of crops. Cooperative marketing associations are to be recommended, and banks are urged to withhold loans to farmers overplanning in cotton.

STATE-WIDE WAR TO FINISH ON CANCER STARTED

Increase in Death Rate Prompts Campaign.

War on cancer—a war of the pen and tongue—is to be carried into every city and hamlet of Illinois, plans for the campaign having been laid yesterday at a meeting of the American Society for the Control of Cancer, held at the Murphy Memorial building.

It is to be a fight to make people aware for knowledge of cancer—its growth, and effect—and to destroy the "cancerphobia," the public fear and horror of the disease, the campaign before it.

Announcing the society's campaign, already started in 47 counties and to be launched soon in Chicago at a great public mass meeting, Dr. Gilbert W. Patrick, chairman of the Illinois branch, yesterday outlined the four all-important features to be brought before the public.

Cancer Root of Many Ills.

"The first," said Dr. Fitz-Patrick, "is to impress indelibly on the minds of the people the importance of not ignoring ill health of any description. Every ailment should be investigated to its source, for cancer may lie at the root of it."

"Second, there should be a yearly check of our physical welfare, so that it may be detected."

"Third, we must establish it the fact over that cancer is curable only in its early stages. This harks back to our second point, for with a yearly physical audit, cancers could be detected and cured before their ravages are beyond cure."

Warning Against Quacks.

"Lastly, it is essential that the people be taught the difference between reliable information, given by reputable scientific men, and that doled out by charlatans and quacks."

The only means of treatment thus far justified by experience, Dr. Fitz-Patrick said, depend upon surgery, radium, and X-ray.

Meetings are being arranged in all counties of the state at which experts will carry the message against cancer. The campaign is stimulated by the increase in cancer deaths in Illinois, which jumped from approximately 4,000 in 1921 to 7,282 in 1924, and may approach 8,000 in figures now being assembled for 1925.

President Men Back Drive.

The executive committee of the society is composed of Robert J. Thorne, Dr. Franklin H. Martin, Dr. Otto L. Schmidt, and Lesing Rosenthal. On the ways and means committee are Dr. John M. Dodson, Dr. Allen Craig, Dr. Fitz-Patrick, and Dr. Schmidt.

The educational committee has on its personnel some of the leading surgeons and scientists and interested laymen in the city and state.

WHEN 58 ELOPES WITH 19, STORY HUSBAND TELLS

"I Was Scorned" Both Say to Court.

What happens to the 58 year old husband after his honeymoon with a 19 year old bride was told sorrowfully by T. Fred Laramie, lawyer, formerly active in politics, from the witness stand in Superior Judge Walter P. Steffen's court yesterday.

Laramie eloped to Crown Point last February with Miss Marion Frances Powell, 19 years old. Their marriage lasted about seven weeks. Then the youthful Mrs. Laramie filed suit for separate maintenance, charging cruelty. She asked for much alimony, declaring her husband had a $25,000 yearly income.

Husband Tells His Story.

Laramie's story, however, made public for the first time yesterday, pictured himself as a kind and affectionate husband whose love for his young wife was repulsed almost immediately after their marriage.

She wouldn't kiss him or hold his hand; she insisted on going out every night after their marriage to a show or party; she drove his automobile, stripping the gears and burning out the bearings; he had to prepare their breakfast; all this was testified to yesterday by the white haired attorney.

"I loved her and I still love her," Laramie declared. "I've got a fine home at 410 South 9th avenue, Maywood, which is open to her. But I appeared to be repulsive to her. Many a time, when I put my arms around her, she would turn her back coldly on me."

Laramie denied that he ever had been cruel to his wife. He said he always had given her a liberal allowance for clothes and amusement.

Wife Has Her Say.

The bride's story, told at the morning session, contained charges that her husband had become ashamed of his marriage about ten days after the elopement.

"He told me that the marriage was making a laughing stock of him with all his friends," Mrs. Laramie testified. "He said he wanted to annul the marriage. We were at the Alcazar hotel and we moved to the Greenmore hotel. After six days there he told me to get out. I was forced to leave at midnight and walk through a severe snowstorm to my mother's home."

Miss Kavanaugh, Quizzed in Murder Case, Found Sane

Mildred Kavanaugh, 21 years old, 1541 South Shore drive, who was questioned in the Cronin murder case, was declared sane by Judge John D. Biggs in the Psychopathic court yesterday. Mrs. Agnes H. Kane, the girl's mother, had caused the arrest on charges of insanity. Although Miss Kavanaugh has been adjudged incompetent to manage her $46,000 estate, she is not insane, the court ruled.

PLEDGES CHANGE IN BRITISH LAWS ON TRADE UNIONS

BY JOHN STEELE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Oct. 7.—Prime Minister Baldwin announced tonight that the government would soon introduce legislation aiming at a revision of trade union laws. The prime minister, addressing 3,000 at a meeting in Scarborough in connection with the Conservative party convention, made a long review of the political and industrial situation.

He did not touch the coal strike developments directly, contenting himself with issuing a general warning to the effect that the country was greater than the masters of industry or trade unions.

Commenting on the effect of the general strike, the prime minister emphasized that the industrial unrest of the last months had postponed for some time any prospect of immediate legislation which required money.

The Conservative party in its national convention unanimously adopted a resolution demanding legislation to take the teeth out of trade unionism and cheered enthusiastically the speeches declaring that Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin was a good man but he needed more decision in dealing with labor.

Resolutions were passed which demanded immediate legislation to make illegal any strike without a previous secret ballot by members of the union concerned, to increase the security of the individual workman against discrimination on account of economic or political beliefs, to make mass picketing at private residences illegal, and to require the national accounts of trades unions to be audited by certified accountants.

William Grant, an Ulster member of parliament, said, "We want Prime Minister Baldwin to be a little more of the lion and less of a lamb."

The miners' delegate conference this afternoon unanimously rejected the Baldwin government's offer to settle the strike by the establishment of a national arbitration tribunal, provided the miners go back to work first. Under the arbitration court plan the miners were offered a nation-wide wage agreement, which was one of their principal demands.

A resolution presented to the conference by the South Wales miners, demanding withdrawal of the union safety workers from the mines, was approved by a large majority.

Luncheon just for one!
"A nuisance," say most women

Try this and enjoy it

After a strenuous morning's housework, of course you hate to fuss over a luncheon just for yourself!

But there's no need to let that stop you from enjoying your noon-day bite. Top it off with a cup or two of Japan Green Tea.

Nothing's less trouble to make. Just long enough for a little water to boil, three minutes or less for the tea to steep—and you've a delightful, restful drink that blots out nervous strain and leaves you fresh and fit for an afternoon's work or recreation.

Today—at noon

JAPAN TEA

The drink for relaxation

An earthenware pot is best for the steeping; it preserves most of the natural flavor. Use a teaspoonful of the fragrant leaves for each cup, and pour the water over them exactly when it comes to a boil.

Japan Green Tea is tea at its best, the natural leaf, uncolored and unfermented.

Specify JAPAN Green Tea when you order. Packaged for the home in several grades under various well-known brand names. Get one of the better grades; the best will cost you only a fraction of a cent a cup.

COOLIDGE BACKS PREPAREDNESS PLAN FOR MILLS

MacNider Urges Business
Be Ready for Next War.

New York, Oct. 7. — [Special.] — President Coolidge is behind all the movements of the country that within his authority and jurisdiction. Mr. H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel corporation, said at a luncheon arranged by the National Association of Manufacturers today for the discussion of industrial preparedness.

MacNider, assistant secretary of war, read this letter from President Coolidge to Mr. Gary:

"My Dear Mr. Gary: I understand you are to preside at an industrial preparedness luncheon on Thursday, and wish to express my appreciation of what you have done and are doing in this work."

"The occasion coming a day before your eightieth birthday serves to call attention more strikingly to the unusual character of your service. That you will retain your active interest in public matters is worthy of high commendation. My hearty congratulations to your birthday and best wishes for continued health, happiness and opportunities for usefulness."

"Very truly yours,
"CALVIN COOLIDGE."

Preparedness for Peace.

"Our industrial preparedness is a declaration to the world that we not only want peace but that we intend to have it," Secretary MacNider said.

"The newest and most spectacular development in the whole national defense structure since the great war is not, strictly speaking, of a military nature. There have been no revolutionary additions to the mechanics of warfare, and our armies would go to war tomorrow with more or less the same equipment which they carried when the armistice found them stretched across the north of France."

Business Must Be Ready, Too.

"That is, provided we could get that equipment, and right there is where the war department would enter the picture—namely, the industrial mobilization plan."

Mr. Gen. C. C. Williams, chief of engineers, told the delegates of the lack of such a plan at the outbreak of the world war.

Col. James L. Walsh, said that it is within the power of the manufacturers of this country to save themselves—$1,000,000,000 for every day saved in meeting the emergency of another war.

Yank to Rebuild French Castle on Long Island

(Copyright: 1926: By The New York Times.)
PARIS, Oct. 7.—A New York millionaire, whose name is withheld, has purchased the Château de Courcelles and is transplanting it, stone by stone, to his American estate on Long Island.

The first shipment leaves on the French liner Paris next Wednesday. The building with its magnificent decorations and furniture cost the American about 7,000,000 francs (about $100,000), a price regarded here as not excessive, especially when it is considered that one piece of Gothic furniture alone is valued at 200,000 francs ($3,000).

A FREE look at floors—'Enduring Floors of Good Taste' shows photographs of Armstrong floors in a wide variety of establishments. Gives information on the laying and upkeep of these modern floors that is well worth reading.

When they set out to shop, they gladly go a few blocks further on to a store where the attention some merchant has given to decoration seems to say, "Better value here."

The merchandise may be no better or prices are lower, but his furnishings speak of taste.

The magazine and movie have shown women what a store can look like. The more-or-less well-to-do to the stores that do look that way.

How do your floors show up?

These modern floors of Armstrong's Linoleum have been designed for the man whose business is to sell and serve the public. What do national organizations say about them?

"Armstrong's Linoleum is a masterpiece of modern design," says the National Association of Retail Druggists.

Shorrel Fans the Babe.
In the sixth inning, Shorrel turned out just about the greatest inning of pitching ever seen in a world's series. That was the round that he got into an undeserving hole because in Pennock's two base hit which Hafey should have caught if he had done his sleeping at night instead of in the afternoon. With Pennock on second and nobody out and the Yanks needing a run to tie, Shorrel had to use his head. He tried to make Combs punt at a bad ball and the result was that Combs drew a pass. That put two men on with no one out and of course Koenig, the next batter, was expected to bunt the boys along. Instead, he crossed everybody and took a cut at one and drove it past Lester Bell for a single to left, sending Pennock in with the tying run. Combs stopped at second and then up came the Babe.
It was a great spot for the Big Bambino who on the previous day had wrecked all records with three home runs in this series. The great Babe fanned on four strikes. At least, Billy Shorrel will declare he had four of 'em, but one of them, a long thing that came up like a crawling caterpillar, was called a ball by umpire Dineen. All the protests of Shorrel, Catcher O'Farrell and Boss Hornsby, couldn't change the decision. Then Mr. Shorrel went back to the mound and struck out the Babe anyway.

Cards Score in Fourth.
After that Bob Meusel hit one clear to the wall in right field but Southworth was there to get it and then after Gehrig had walked, this same Southworth put his back against the concrete and caught a long drive from Lester Bell. The Yanks might have scored a cluster of runs in that inning but they got only one and it didn't belong.

The Cards had tallied one in the fourth in regular style when, with one out, Bottomley doubled and came home on Bell's single. They scored their other in the seventh when Bell opened with a screaming double and counted on O'Farrell's single. Nothing fluky about those two runs, nothing they should have won the game but in the ninth, Gehrig led off with a pop fly to short left center. Holm, center fielder, came in like mad but couldn't reach the ball. It went for a double. Then Lester Bell cut a perfect bunt, putting Gehrig on third. Paschal was sent up to hit for Dugan and poked a Texas leaguer to center which scored Gehrig and tied the count and in the tenth the Yanks scored a run which won the game.

Hornsby Blames Hafey for Defeat of Cardinal Crew

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 7.—(AP)—Patience of the Cards to capture today's game was directly due to the errors in judgment displayed by Chick Hafey, the Cardinal left fielder.
That was the explanation of Rogers Hornsby after he had defeated players of the field.
"I hate to say it, but ordinary people that anybody should have caught were allowed to go for two base hits."
Hafey misjudged Pennock's fly at the start of the sixth, with the result that it went for two bases. Hafey ran in for the ball, then tried to turn and go back and fell down. That started the Yanks' scoring.

"That two base hit of Gehrig's in the ninth was just an ordinary pop-up. We gave that to him. That gift cost us the ball game. The score should have been 2 to 1 in our favor."
Hornsby and the Cards players surrounded "Wee Willie" Shorrel, their pitcher, when they reached the dressing room, sympathizing with him for losing such a tough game.

Shorrel suffered a painful injury, the seriousness of which he concealed until after the game, when he was struck on the first finger of his pitching hand in the fifth inning. Three-quarters of the finger nail was black and blue when he was examined after the contest.

Doubtful, the Cardinal center fielder, who was knocked unconscious yesterday, when he collided with Hafey as they raced for a fly ball, will be unable to play in the remaining games. His ribs were damaged by the crash, with the result that his left side, from shoulders to his waist, is firmly bound in tape.

TIME ROBY RACE DRIVERS TODAY

Racing automobiles will spin around Roby Speedway this afternoon in a series of time trials leading up to the 150 mile national championship, which is to be run off Sunday.

Leslie Allen, veteran Chicago driver, who lost his grip on the prize money when the association outlawed the big cars of 300 cubic inch piston displacement, has lined up with Art Chevrolet of Indianapolis and will drive as a teammate of Dutch Baumann.

Reopen Probe of Markham Speed Trap

BY J. L. JENKINS.

State's Attorney Robert E. Crow reopened the probe into the Markham speed trap yesterday with a second examination of court and arrest records subpoenaed from the little subdivision village which proved one of the danger spots for Chicago motorists using Western avenue and South Park avenue last summer. Numerous complaints, received by the Chicago Motor club bureau of inquiry and the state's attorney's office recently, charge that Harry Morley, deputy police chief of Markham who is under indictment for conspiracy in the original speed trap cleanup, is again riding the highways with Markham as a base.

Several officials of the village appeared in the criminal courts building yesterday and were questioned by Assistant State's Attorney George Gorman concerning Morley's status in the village, and Charles Mueller, prosecutor in charge of the speed trap investigation, promised to follow up the inquiry between now and the date of Morley's trial, Oct. 15.

One of the most recent complaints against Morley came yesterday from A. Soorge, 1600 Wood street, Hammond, who charged that he had been dragged from his car on Western avenue recently by Morley and two other men and severely beaten. He told the motor club bureau that he was accompanied by his wife when the beating occurred and was later charged with disorderly conduct. His case will be heard next Tuesday in Justice Synakiewicz's court in Elmhurst.

Glenna Meets Miss Wilson for Berthelwyn Golf Cup

BY HARLAND ROHM.

All due respect to Mrs. G. Henry Stetson, national women's golf champion, with more obsequious to Maureen O'Connell, Virginia Van Winkle, Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd, Louise Fordyce and all the rest of the first class women golfers of the United States, but there will be a golf match today over the rolling hills of the Huntington Valley golf course at Philadelphia.

Glenna Collett, which will be more representative of the best in women's golf than was any in the national tournament. Glenna Collett, rightly rated America's greatest woman golfer, despite well substantiated claims for Mrs. Alex Stirling Fraser, now resident of Canada, plays Virginia Wilson of Onondaga for the Berthelwyn cup. And it should be a golf match worth watching.

Glenna Meets Helen Meehan. Miss Collett's weakness—putting—is Miss Wilson's citadel, at least it was when they met in the third round of the national championship, when the Onondaga girl won, 3 and 1. Whether Glenna can reverse that score today is doubtful, for Virginia, whose golf has been the sensation of the three tournaments in which she has played this year, is at the peak of a fine game.

Glenna yesterday defeated Helen Meehan, one of Philadelphia's finest among the younger golfers, 3 and 1, and Virginia eliminated, by 3 and 2, Edith Quier of Reading, Pa., who Wednesday defeated Mrs. Stetson. Glenna doubtless will have the advantage of the tee on most of the holes for there is not a harder hitting woman golfer, and it is quite probable that her hitting power will put her closer to the pin with their second. Virginia's fine iron shots may offset that driving advantage, but if she wins she must do it with her approach and putts.

Virginia a Coming Star.
The sunny dispositioned Chicago girl, who spent two weeks "crumming" golf, before the test of the national has a chance today to boost herself into the foremost rank of women golfers. She has played in three tournaments this year, all in her own manner of playing—not working—at golf. She won the Buffalo invitation, she finished second to Louise Fordyce at Pittsburgh and she won much fame by defeating Glenna in the national open and then teasing away the championship after being 2 up and 3 to play against Mrs. Stetson.

GATKE WINS.
Tom Gatke of Westward Ho, led the field at the end of the 54 holes on the two day program in the Anshermuchy tourney at Oak Park, with a total of 148. Right on his heels in the class A pursuers were Dr. Homer Nicolls of Glen Oak and L. D. Terreo, of the home club who had totals of 150. First prize in class B went to W. E. Miller, for his score of 265 and J. H. Satterwhite of Tulsa, Okla., topped the class C shooters with 297.

In the van of the class A bunch for low net was Dr. E. I. Lewis of the home club with 264-284, while L. C. Towle, another Oak Parker was first in class B with 271-44-225. George Carolan topped class C with 316-76-240.

The annual meeting of the members of the North Shore golf club, at which officers and directors will be elected, has been set for Oct. 16.

Gophers Plan Pass Defense

Notre Dame, Ind., Oct. 7.—[Special.]—
Notre Dame players, accompanied by Knute Rockne, left South Bend at 5:50 this afternoon for Minneapolis, where they meet Minnesota Saturday. Interest here in the contest is running high.
No announcement was made as to what combination would start the game for Notre Dame, but it was believed that the team will be made of the Boerger center, Mayor and Mar-telli, guards; McMahon and Boland, tackles; Voedisch and Wallace, ends;
Capt. Gene Edwards, quarter; Capt.
Tom Harden and Christy Flanagan, half backs, and Elmer Wynne, full.

LEWIS ENTERS 10

MILE RACE HERE

Andrew Lewis of Toronto, Canada, is the latest of town distance runner to signify his intention of entering the 10 mile road race to be held on Sunday, Oct. 24. Lewis has won several races in Detroit and Canada.
His best time is better than the Central A. A. U. record. He has covered the distance under 56 minutes on two occasions.

Charles (Chuck) Miller of the Illinois Athletic club claims the record of 56:55 made in 1922 over the Palmer
Square course.

Duck Hunting

Near Chicago

Poor, Says Bob

BY BOB BECKER.

Chicago (to the Editor): Could you enlighten me as to where, in your opinion, is the best place to go for ducks at this time of the year? Some place where a person could drive on a Saturday afternoon, hunt Sunday morning and return in the afternoon. Also please give me information about blinds and rates.

Answer—I can suggest several places
where you can hunt on a Sunday morning close to Chicago but you probably would have to stop at a most market
to get your ducks, as all shooting grounds within a few hour ride of a city of 2,000,000 people are, of course, crowded and produce little real duck
shooting on Sunday morning when hundreds of gunners are busy. If you want some real duck shooting I suggest you consider the Illinois river, a minimum of three days' hunting and prepare to spend a day for blind, decoy and board and lodging while on the river.

grounds within a few hour ride of a
city of 2,000,000 people are, of course,
crowded and produce little real duck
shooting on Sunday morning when hundreds of gunners are busy. If you want some real duck shooting I suggest you consider the Illinois river, a minimum of three days' hunting and prepare to spend a day for blind, decoy and board and lodging while on the river.

Answer—I can suggest several places
where you can hunt on a Sunday morning close to Chicago but you probably would have to stop at a most market
to get your ducks, as all shooting

CORN SLUMPS AS WHEAT GAINS ON SHORT COVERING

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Shoppers in the Canadian northwest with forecast for more, and the barometer showing the lowest of the season at some points, led to short covering in wheat. With a lack of aggressive selling prices advanced readily and closed at the top at net gains of 1 1/4c to 1 1/2c with December 11.33 1/2, and May, 11.43 1/2, to 11.43 1/2. Winnipeg showed independent strength and gained 1 1/2c closing strong on the wet weather.

Related liquidation was on in corn with a drop to a new low on the present downturn. December touching 79 1/2, and the close was 1/4c lower with December 79 1/2, and May 80 1/2, the spread being about the widest of the season. Oats were unchanged with December 47 1/2, and May 48 1/2, while rye was 1/4c higher with December 33 1/2, and May 34 1/2.

Watch Canadian Weather.

Recent sharp decline in wheat strengthened the technical position, and with prospects of a return of wet weather in the Canadian northwest and another deluge in threatening and the movement local buyers were somewhat less confident of their position. The advance in Winnipeg was in the face of selling of futures credited to the Canadian pool.

Outside interest in wheat remains light and the market is easily influenced at times by any good buying or selling, and quickly passes from an overbought to an overbought condition. Liverpool came better than due, 1/4c higher to 1/4c lower, with October showing the most strength, and is due 1/4c higher today based on the action of the local market, and 1/4c higher based on Winnipeg.

Highly beneficial rains were reported as falling in the northern part of the Argentine wheat belt, and private cables told of extremely favorable conditions for the new Australian crop.

Stop Orders in Corn.

While short covering was on in corn, and there was some buying of futures on the strength in wheat, the market showed a heavy undercurrent with stop loss orders unopened under 79 1/2 for December. The persistence with which the country sold old corn to arrive with 300,000 bu booked tends to increase bearish sentiment. The bids for new No. 4 grades to arrive for all December shipment of 100,000 bu under December, compared with a delivery basis of 41 1/2c under was regarded as against any material upturn in values. Eastern cash demand was slow.

Oats held within a range of 1/4c, with fair support developing on the break. Country offerings were small. Rye was somewhat firmer with wheat. There was a noticeable lack of export business.

TRADING IN GRAIN FUTURES

CASH GRAIN NEWS

Export sales of 500,000 to 600,000 bu wheat were reported in all positions, including the Canadian northwest. Demand for other grains continued slow. No. 3 hard winter at the mill, first half October loading, was quoted at 10 1/2c over Chicago December and last half at 10 1/2c over.

Chicago handlers sold 7,000 bu wheat 152,000 bu corn, 77,000 bu oats, and 10,000 bu barley to the domestic trade, with 500,000 bu corn bought to arrive. Chartered vessels for 100,000 bu oats at 3c to Buffalo and 100,000 bu corn to Georgian Bay. Rates on Canadian grain from Fort William are 3c to Georgian Bay, 4c to Buffalo, and 1 1/2c to Montreal. There was 35,000 bu No. 3 hard winter wheat sold at December price from elevators.

Local cash wheat market was somewhat unsettled, with red winter unchanged and hard unchanged to 1/4c lower. No. 3 red brought 14 1/2c under No. 2 red 32 1/2c under December, with No. 2 red 30 1/2c over, and No. 3 hard 1c over to 4c under December. Kansas City and Omaha beans showed little change, while St. Louis was 1/4c lower. Minneapolis reported a fair demand with premiums unchanged on springs.

There was a moderate demand for cash corn on spot with the basis unchanged to 1/4c higher. No. 2 red brought 1c over to 1c under December, with No. 2 red 30 1/2c under and No. 3 hard 1c over to 4c under December. Beans showed little change, while St. Louis was 1/4c lower. Minneapolis reported a fair demand with premiums unchanged on springs.

Choice No. 2 white oats are scarce and the basis on spot was firm to 1/4c higher with No. 3 white 1/4c under to 1/4c under December.

Official receipt of grain at Chicago Thursday, wheat, 35,000 bu; corn, 17,000 bu; oats, 1,700 bu; rye, 400 bu; total, 53,400 bu.

Wanted—
A high-grade Chicago real estate organization to handle selling of million dollar
Mississippi Gulf Coast property

This announcement offers an opportunity for a high-grade Chicago real estate company with a strong selling organization to take over the complete selling of a splendid million dollar property on the Mississippi Gulf Coast. Its location is between Gulfport and Biloxi, near the new Edgewater Gulf Hotel. Improvements going in are of the finest character—warried, of course, by the owners. Compensation on commission basis. Selling backed with small organization last common very profitable. Appointment will be arranged.

Don't Overlook the Business Lots on Sibley Boulevard (a Half Section Line), State Street (a Full Section), and Paxton Avenue (a Half Section Line). That Should Be Enough for Most Anyone.

Come out to the Sale and see for yourself. The most skeptical and careful buyer will be convinced when he sees the opportunities we have to offer. Don't be a skeptic. Seeing is believing. We mean what we say. We are prepared for a great sacrifice and are not fooling ourselves, so don't fool yourself. You must attend the sale to take advantage of the opportunity.

Bright Sayings
of the Children

The Tribune will pay $5 for each child's saying printed. The story told must never have been printed in any magazine or newspaper. It is not possible to acknowledge or return unsolicited contributions. Write on one side of the paper. Address bright sayings to Amy Lee, The Tribune, Chicago.

Three little birds went past my house this morning on their way to school just as the trolley bell was ringing. Two were boys and they were quite a distance ahead of their sister. Every little way she stopped and cried. Finally one of the boys called wifely over his shoulder, "Don't take time to bawl, honey, just run!" K. D. B.

Rosa, aged 7, had just entered school. The teacher asked each child what nationality she was. When Rosa's turn came she raised her hand and said, "Pisano, teacher, I'm English per cent." R. G. R.

A FRIEND IN NEED.

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.
Household is ill.

"I have taken a flat and am much in need of rugs and any household furniture your readers might have to give. My husband is in the hospital and I can get enough household goods, I can have him come home."

"Mum, J. M."

This sick man may be coming home to a comfortably furnished flat if only you will give the furniture and rugs you have no further use for.
